SOME SORE HEAD CONTRACTORS

Realizing that the public in general, and the merchants in particular, were becoming disgusted with its anti-Louisville campaign, the Louisville Herald is now busy showing the new Progressive apostle, W. W. Davies, into the limelight as a possible booster for the fast receding prospects of the misfit aggregation now labeled the Progressive ticket. Davies, as a Democrat served in the Bingham cabinet, being a member of the Board of Public Safety, and liked the position so well that he made frantic efforts to serve again in the event of Grinstead's election, espousing the Republican cause and bitterly attacking everybody in sight, his style of campaigning being very pleasing to the A. P. A. bureau, who were in charge of the Republican end at that time. The effect on his physical and mental powers, in addition to the fact that the Republicans were beaten decisively, caused a general breakdown, and it is rumored that he was sent to a private sanitarium to recuperate. Now he is back again in harness, this time coupled with the Bull Moose aggression, having been discarded by both Republicans and Democrats, and we can expect another repetition of his former frenzied utterances in favor of the A. P. A. contingent now on the Progressive ticket, while the Louisville Herald will applaud him as the city's savior. Davies probably having the promise of an appointment on the Board of Safety in the event of success. There are several men allied with the Progressive ticket just now, among them being prominent men on the tobacco breaks, and at the first launching of an A. P. A. campaign by Davies and his backers these men will quit in disgust.

The fact that merchants were threatening to discontinue advertising with the Herald on account of its daily vilification of Louisville, frightening possible buyers away, served to check our out-of-town managed sheet, but only temporarily, as its allies in the Haager detective agency, the Pinkerton agency, and with the aid of disgruntled politicians, are seeking to discover matter against the present administration and the police force in particular. The casual observer knows that the present attack on the police department is unwarranted, as that branch of the administration is at the best in its history, and if there are any weak spots they are eradicated, some of those that have been charged now spring on the police solely for revenge.

Another element that has joined the Progressive knackers is the disappointed office-seekers and disgruntled contractors, some of the latter who have been Democrats as long as they were allowed to sell sand and other supplies to the city and who are strict believers in the "good old days" when big prices could be charged, the consequences being that many of them are rich today. The Louisville Herald and the local Progressive party are welcome to this combination, but the strength of the people will be divided between the Democratic and Republican tickets, which are both composed of representative citizens, in preference to the Herald-Davies-A. P. A. combination and its misfit following. It is predicted that the latter will go on the rocks after the poor figure they will cut in the August primary, and the race will narrow down to the Democratic party on one side and the rejuvenated Republican party on the other, the Bull Moosers being in the discard.

GOOD SHEPHERD HOME.

Sister Laura, formerly Mother Superior of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd at Grand Rapids, Iowa, has come to Louisville as assistant to Mother Mary of the Compassion, Superior of the Good Shepherd Home at Eighth and Walnut streets. Mother Mary was last week in Carthage, Ohio, where she consulted the Mother Provincial with regard to the erection of the new $250,000 home and industrial school for colored girls on the Newburg road. Upon request of Mother Mary the Mother Provincial appointed Sister Laura to assist her in the building of the new institution, which is entirely in her charge. Sister Laura met Mother Mary at Carthage and they returned together Monday afternoon. The institution these good women hope to erect will be the largest of its kind in this part of the country.

ALL-DAY GARDEN PARTY.

The Ladies' Sewing Society of St. Anthony's Hospital, of which Mrs. John Walker is President, will give their all-day garden party next Wednesday on the beautiful grounds of the home of Matthew Poschinger, Vernon and Sycamore avenue. Dinner will be served by the ladies, who promise a bountiful repast for all who come. For those who desire a day's vacation this affords a good time to take it. With the cooling shade under the trees and the spacious grounds a more inviting place could not have been selected for an affair of this kind. The proceeds will be turned over to the Sisters of St. Anthony's Hospital for the care of the many charity patients who are sent there.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

A well attended and interesting meeting of the Catholic Federation was held at the Catholic Woman's Club on Thursday evening of last week, every officer being present. The reports submitted showed that the various committees are making a record for good work during the hot months. Col. Henry A. Vonderheide read a carefully prepared paper upon the benefits to be derived from federation and suggesting plans for the betterment of the organization. This was based upon talks had with Archbishop Messmer, who heartily approved Col. Vonderheide's ideas. Upon motion the paper was ordered copied into the minutes. Attorney Benedict Elder announced that the booklets dealing with Socialism had been ordered and would be ready for distribution at the next meeting. President Peter S. Ganz was chosen delegate to represent the Louisville Federation at the national convention to be held at Milwaukee next month. Four more delegates will be named by the Executive Committee. Attorney Lawrence Mackey, Chairman of the Committee on Constitution, stated that considerable time would be required before the report could be adopted, and all present were anxious to hear Rev. Father Charles P. Raffo, his request that the matter be delayed was concurred in. Father Raffo was then introduced and delivered one of the most instructive and enlightening addresses ever heard on the subject of the Bible.

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS.

Any one who would enjoy a pleasant outing of a day or two should remember the big barbecue and fish fry to be given by the Spring Bank Club at Spring Bank Park on Thursday and Friday of next week. Besides the deliciously prepared burgoo and barbecued meats on the menu the first day, and the savory fish second, there will be many forms of pleasing entertainment. A big motor boat race for a $50 gold prize, several very fine fancy drill contests, in which local star drill teams will compete for a beautiful silver loving cup, a lively may made of minstrel shows, comedies, novelties, motion picture offerings, good music and dancing, are some of the diverting features. Refreshments will also be served. The proceeds of this barbecue will go to the Holy Cross church. The Committee of Arrangements, of whom the genial host of Spring Bank is Chairman, hope that all of their friends will take advantage of this invitation to spend a pleasant day on the cool banks of the Ohio at Spring Bank Park. During both days the street cars will be run on a three-minute schedule.

BOUCICAULT AN IRISHMAN.

"Aubrey Boucicault, actor and playwright, died of pneumonia today at the New York Hospital. He had been in poor health for years. Mr. Boucicault was the son of Dion Boucicault, a well known English actor, and was born in London in 1868. He came to this country in 1890."

The foregoing clipping, from the Louisville Times of July 10, is somewhat misleading, in that it may cause some people to believe that Dion Boucicault was an Englishman. Dionysius Lardner Boucicault was born in Dublin, December 26, 1822. As the author of "The Colleen Bawn," "London Assurance" and numerous other plays, more than fifty in number, which he produced, he is well known to all Irishmen. He came to live in this country in 1876 and died in New York in 1890.

PEWEE VALLEY.

All cars on the Eastern Interurban electric line to Woodridge station, just beyond Pewee Valley, should be crowded next Tuesday with friends of Rev. Father Edward Boes, who will attend the first old-fashioned picnic to be held in Woodridge Grove for the benefit of the new church at Pewee Valley. The people of the congregation will serve one of the best country dinners to be had, with chicken, roasts and all kinds of fresh vegetables. There will be several exciting contests, music, amusements and refreshments.

ENJOYING VACATION.

The Very Rev. Father Schumann, D. D., of St. John's church; the Rev. William Gausepohl, of St. Mary Magdalene, and the Rev. Oscar Ackermann, of St. Philip Neri's, are each enjoying a much needed two weeks' vacation. In the interim Father Francis O'Connor is at St. John's, Rev. Father Patrick Monahan at St. Mary Magdalene's, and the Passionist fathers are attending St. Philip Neri's. Fathers Schumann and Ackermann are in the East and Father Gausepohl is in Canada.

ATTENDED EXCURSION.

Only a short business session of Division 4, A. O. H., was held Monday evening, as a large number of the members were attending the moonlight excursion of the Hibernian Social Club. President John H. Hennessey appointed Thomas Lynch to fill a vacancy on the Visiting Committee and John J. Score on the Finance Committee. The quarterly reports of the Financial Secretary and Treasurer were read, showing a nice increase financially and also a slight increase numerically. It was planned to organize another membership campaign about the last of next month and rival teams will be selected.

ACTIVITY OF PAULISTS.

Every Sunday morning at 8 o'clock St. Mary's church, Wabash avenue, Chicago, is opened for public worship. A band of men varying from 150 to 200 drop in for a short mass. Policemen, newspaper men, Postoffice clerks and some actors together with odd representatives of other night-working classes, compose the congregation. St. Mary's church, as the Paulist sanctuary is properly known, is one of the oldest within the city, if not actually the oldest. The first church was built in 1833. Eleven priests have charge of the parish under the leadership of Very Rev. Peter J. O'Callaghan. Six of the priests are engaged in missionary work which carries them from Kentucky to Canada and from Detroit to Colorado. The other five manage the local work.

WELCOME TO IRELAND.

The tour of Ireland of the American Commission on Agricultural Organization, Co-operation and Rural Credits began Saturday with an official reception at the Royal College of Science, Dublin, which was attended by the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in full state, accompanied by the Countess of Aberdeen, Thomas Wallace Russell, Vice President of the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction for Ireland, welcomed the visitors with a hearty speech. While welcoming the Commissioners in the name of King George and the Irish Government, the Earl of Aberdeen said he recalled with gratitude the hospitality shown to Lady Aberdeen and himself "all over your great and wonderful country." The Commissioners afterward went to Plunkett House, where Sir Horace Plunkett Plunkett and others welcomed them on behalf of the agricultural societies of Ireland.

GRAND CONCERT.

The two German singing societies of Louisville, the Concordia and Societal Maennerchor, will give a grand concert at Phoenix Hill Park next Tuesday night, for which several features have been planned. There will be a spirited singing contest between the rival societies, but the opening and closing will be a mass chorus. Prominent men of the North American Saengerbund will act as judges. Included in the concert will be several selections by a ladies' chorus, several humorous sketches and a number of surprises. A union orchestra will furnish the music and the festivities will close with a dance.

CLERICAL CHANGES.

Rev. Joseph Neesen, for a number of years pastor of Holy Trinity church at St. Matthews, having resigned to become a member of the Missionary Society of the Divine Word, has been succeeded by the Rev. John A. Bohlsen, who was assistant to Father Ohle at St. Martin's. Father George Friedrich, formerly pastor at St. Martin's, has been returned to St. Martin's, his place at the Cathedral being taken by the Rev. Martin Frankenberger, recently ordained at Columbus, Ohio.

ELABORATE PROGRAMME.

The Catholic Order of Foresters of Louisville have mapped out an elaborate programme for the entertainment of the national convention, which meets here August 4 and will be in session for the next three days. It is expected that this convention will bring to the city delegates and visitors to the number of several thousand.

Archbishop Advises Every Catholic to Possess and Read Bible.

Reaffirms the Fidelity of the Church to the Holy Scripture.

Pokes Fun at Evangelization of Italy by Protestants Methods.

VERILY THE WORD OF GOD

Archbishop J. J. Glennon reaffirmed the Catholic church's fidelity to the Holy Scriptures in a recent sermon in the new St. Louis Cathedral chapel. He advised every communicant to possess a copy of the Bible and to read it "reverently, devotionally, piously, interpreting the words not according to the will, but according to Him who directed their interpretations in the church He has founded."

The Archbishop poked a little fun at Protestant evangelization of Italy. "It is rather funny," he said, "to hear today of the people that are sending Bibles over to Italy. I believe they have several hundred thousand dollars subscribed every year to send the Word of God to these benighted Italians. Well, about a month ago I was giving confirmation up in the Church of St. Ambrose, and I found that Italian congregation able to sing the 'De Profundis,' 'Miserere,' 'Benedictus,' several of the Psalms, verse for verse, without any book at all. I doubt very much whether those that are sending the Bible over to Italy to instruct those Italians in the Holy Scriptures could do without having the Bible very near, and having some one very near to tell them the number."

Concerning the inspiration of the Bible, the Archbishop said: "We believe that the Holy Scriptures are verily the Word of God; that is to say, not every word of the Sacred Scriptures was spoken by Almighty God, but those who wrote them were divinely inspired to write. Inspiration does not necessarily mean revelation. Inspiration is the guidance of those who wrote, so that when they wrote they wrote the truth. It did not take away the free will of their writings. They were free to exercise that free will to a considerable extent, as is shown by their individual style in writing. (We believe that everybody who is competent to write, and those not able to read ought to obtain adequate instruction in regard to Scripture history and Scripture truth. Hence, in all our Catholic schools we expect that in the curriculum there shall be a study of the Sacred Scriptures. What is it, then, that we do not believe about the Scriptures? We do not believe that the Holy Scriptures are of themselves the sole rule of faith."

The Archbishop quoted Christ's authority as the "book of words" and the importance of the teacher. "In the apostolic age the greater part of the New Testament was not written," he said. "It would have been impossible in the first, second and third centuries to make the Bible the rule of faith, because there was no Bible as we understand it now."

The Archbishop also said that Sunday school infallibility in the interpretation of what the truth is. He added: "Everybody finds just what is written in his own mind. Some find one sacrament in the Holy Scriptures; some find two; some find three; some find none at all. Some think infant baptism is the only thing; some think only adult baptism; some baptize by immersion; some baptize by sprinkling; some think Christ rose from the dead, scoring not; some find in the Holy Scriptures a Trinity, some only a Unity. Private interpretation leads to the confusion, misery and disorder we find everywhere outside the Catholic church. The Protestant commentators for the last hundred years have been a most earnest, most studious, energetic body of writers. Their study of place and of language, and of fact, and of miracle, and of mystery, has been thorough and profound. But we find now that the most learned have explained the Holy Scriptures, by explaining it all away. They find out there is nothing sacred about it. A great deal of it is simply 'folk lore,' much like the books which exist in all nations." The Archbishop urged the hearers to cling the more closely to the Bible, declaring this devotion would simply be a revival of the zeal felt in the beginning for the sacred writings.

COMMENDS INSTITUTE.

The Institute of the Brothers of the Christian Schools is in receipt of a brief from the Sovereign Pontiff Pope Pius X. on the junior novitiates in their order. In the brief the Holy Father once more gives expression to the esteem in which he holds "religious men who give themselves up wholly to the work of training youth both in letters and in the precepts of Christian wisdom;" he manifests his solicitude for the Brothers of the Christian schools and recommends the work of recruiting subjects for the junior novitiates to the benevolence of the ordinaries and the clergy. At the present time there are four of these novitiates in the United States, one for each province. The junior novitiates are preparatory schools for boys of at least fourteen years of age, who express a desire to prepare to one day become Christian brothers. In these sheltered abodes their youthful minds are trained to habits of piety and study; they receive the best of care and attention morally, physically and intellectually and thus experience the truth of the words of the Psalmist, "It is good for a man when he hath borne the yoke of the Lord from his youth."

GROCERS TO CELEBRATE.

Next Thursday the retail grocers of the city will be closed at noon, in order to permit the grocers, their clerks and their families to attend the annual reunion and outing of the Retail Grocers' Association of Louisville, which will be given at Fontaine Ferry Park. The principal feature of this picnic is the country store, and the bargains there obtainable will be better this year than ever before. A mammoth stand will be erected, larger in size than in previous years. The grocers, during the day at least, attempt to reduce the "cost of high living" for their customers by letting them have all goods, from the cheapest to the most valuable, at not exceeding ten cents per package, no package containing less than ten cents' worth. Chairman George H. Young has with him, as assistants on the Outing Committee, Messrs. Lee Schulz, Otto Gruener, Martin J. Doll, George H. Lammer, Leo Klarer, Charles Finnegan, W. F. and A. J. Miller and John Keller. Mr. Young says that the finest melons, loads of coal, barrels and sacks of flour, loaves of bread and creamy butter, in fact the entire list of edibles, "from soup to nuts," may be obtained at ten cents per package.

HOUSEBREAKING COUNCILMAN.

The young man who writes the wild-eyed stories of near burglaries for the Herald missed a scoop last Sunday evening by not being in the neighborhood of Ninth and Oak, where one of our police had collared a man for removing a pane of glass from a side window of Councilman Mike McDermott's home, but after investigation proved to be the genial Councilman himself. Councilman McDermott stated that early in the morning his family had gone to the country and left a key with his friend John Hennessy, whom he couldn't locate that night, and proceeded to do a little housebreaking on his own account, with the above result, and was only released by the officer when he exhibited his baseball pass and a few copies of the city ordinance as a means of identification.

ORPHAN PICNIC.

The annual picnic for the benefit of St. Joseph's Orphanage, Crescent Hill, will take place on the orphanage grounds on August 19. Last Sunday President Joseph Schildt presided over the initial meeting of the chairman of committees, and judging from their personnel and the enthusiasm manifested this event will surpass all others heretofore given. An excellent concert band will render popular selections both afternoon and evening. The illuminations have been increased and with the many additional improvements contemplated will make the spacious grounds more attractive than ever.

BREWERS AGAIN TODAY.

Our fast going Louisville ball club will again tackle the Milwaukee team this afternoon and tomorrow, and it would not be surprising if the Colonels took them into camp, as Clark's aggregation has lost considerable strength since the sale of Chappelle, and with the slump of Columbus many critics are picking our boys for the surest flag tender. The remarkable showing made on the road by the club has only verified the prediction made in these columns early in the season that if the club was on the road entirely the pennant would be theirs in a walk as their fighting spirit is given full play, this being the secret of their success in foreign territory. President Wathen has earned the gratitude of the fans by once more putting Louisville on the ball map and the Colonels' standing is a big improvement over recent years.

ACQUITTED.

Justice Daniel F. Cohalan has scored a great victory over the Pulitzer and the New York World, who have been pursuing him for months past for performing his duty. The World's chief witness was proved not only a "squealer," but by his admissions a criminal. The charges were investigated by the Senate Judiciary Committee, who sat for four days listening to evidence, and long before adjournment they made up their minds that the charges had fallen flat.

POSTOFFICE ABOLISHED.

The Postoffice at Highland Park passed out of existence Monday, having been merged with the Louisville office, and now residents of that suburb are having their mail delivered at their homes and places of business by carriers. The new substitution will be superintended by Clarence C. Adams, and will be fully equipped with a wagon, etc. Hereafter mail will be addressed to Louisville, Highland Park branch.

MADE VOWS.

Sister Mary Cecilia Smith made her religious profession Wednesday morning at the Convent of the Sisters of Mercy on East Broadway. Right Rev. Bishop Donaghue presided at the mass, which was attended by many of the Sisters and clergy.

VICTORIES

Mark the Asquith Regime and Veto of Lords Has Arrived.

Majority For Home Rule Bill More Than Irishmen Expected.

Orangemen Realize Their Game Is Up and Emigrate to Ulster.

IRISH PARTY TOASTS PREMIER

This week, cables T. P. O'Connor from London, has been so remarkable that the people feel almost stunned and ask themselves whether it is not all too good to be true. Three of the greatest measures of Asquith's Ministry have passed the second milestone in the road to the statute book, and on Monday afternoon the plural voting bill, the fourth great measure, will have reached the same position. The breakdown of the old omnipotent veto of the House of Lords has come at last, and though known for a long time to be inevitable, its actual arrival, and all within the space of one week, makes its realization as startling as if it had been unexpected.

To add to this enormous triumph of the policy of the Asquith Ministry of the Irish party, all these bills have gathered strength as they went along until all are carried by majorities above the normal. The home rule bill, a majority of 109, and the Welsh disestablishment 104. The Irishmen did not expect more than ninety-eight majority, especially as two of their members are lying in sick beds and the announcement of such a majority as 109 was an intoxicating surprise.

Even the Orangemen at last begin to realize that the game is up and have again absented themselves from the House of Commons and emigrated to Ulster in hopes of creating such riots and disturbances as will intimidate English opinion, even this last desperate card is not played out, for British opinion has plainly announced to Carson and his traveling troupe that such threats excite either anger or contempt, and private information from Ulster reveals that even in Unionist circles reaction has been against Carson's tall talk and the dangers to business and business men in Belfast of any attempt to produce anarchy. The House of Lords, as anticipated, will reject all the bills and will thereby help them by getting up that bitter resentment against the House of Lords interfering with the verdict of the popular chamber which has been growing for years and which made the Parliament act possible.

This succession of triumphs found a fitting culmination in the dinner given by Redmond to Asquith Thursday night. This occasion marks an epoch in English history, as it is the first time the English Premier ever was entertained by the Irish party. I am not free to give details that happened at the banquet, as the proceedings were strictly private, but I can say that Asquith's speech expressed his confidence in the home rule bill, and the statute book in terms so strong and unqualified as to arouse his Irish hosts to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. This speech, compressed within ten minutes and spoken in quiet, conversational tones, is regarded as marking the biggest milestone yet reached in the home rule fight. Equal enthusiasm was created by Asquith's declaration that at last there was going to be a real and not a sham union between England and Ireland.

Except this speech of Asquith's and a few words from Redmond proposing Asquith's health the whole evening was given to song, and Asquith and several other English Cabinet Ministers listened with delight to the Irish ballads recounting Ireland's struggles for the freedom which is at last so close at hand. Both hosts and guests spoke with the same delight at the evening so successful and so charming, and Asquith endeavored himself to all by his simplicity, geniality and modesty.

The Tories now speak of only one last desperate hope—namely that the King will refuse to sanction some rule next year without having another general election, but nobody really believes, outside their ranks, that the King, brought up in strict constitutional principles by his father and grandmother, will even contemplate such an unconstitutional action.

VACATION IN IRELAND.

After many years the Rev. John H. Riley, of Shelbyville, will soon realize a hope that has long been deferred. That is that he might visit Ireland, the land of his ancestors. Father Riley will leave Shelbyville the latter part of this month for Fall River, Mass., and on August 2 will sail from New York, in company with Messrs. W. R. and Frank Spain, of Shelbyville, for the Isle of Jersey. Before returning Father Riley may go to Copenhagen to visit Minister Maurice Francis Egan, but the greater part of his time will be spent in Ireland. He will be about two months. During his absence Rev. Francis O'Connor will be the acting pastor.

COMMENDS ACTING GOVERNOR.

Upon all sides are heard words of commendation for Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott for his firmness and wisdom in the settlement of the differences between the Lexington Railroad Company and its striking employees. Instead of calling out the State troops and incurring an enormous expense, the Governor proceeded to the Bluegrass capital and reviewed the situation for himself. Without any hesitancy he called together the representatives of the railroad and its employees and pointed out the duty they owed the city and State, being firm and just to each side. The gratifying result was that the strike was called off, arbitration was agreed upon, the men returned to work and all is again harmonious, altogether due to Gov. McDermott, who would make a most excellent Chairman for President Wilson's new National Board of Mediation and Conciliation.

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons will celebrate his seventy-ninth birthday next Wednesday. The Kentucky Irish American joins with the American people and tenders its hearty congratulations, praying that God will prolong his earthly life for many years. Cardinal Gibbons was ordained fifty-two years ago and twenty-seven years ago became a member of the Sacred College. This great American churchman now stands second in seniority in the College of Cardinals.

HIT DOG YELPS.

The Kentucky Irish American is in receipt of an anonymous communication disputing the expose in these columns of the Menace's favorite fake story that the assassins of Presidents Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley were Catholics, but doesn't show any proof to the contrary. Our data gathered from Protestant sources must have certainly hurt the feelings of some Menace adherent in this neck of the woods.

AMOUNTS TO NOTHING.

The House of Lords, after defeating the second reading of the home rule bill for Ireland, adopted a resolution to submit the measure to the judgment of the country. This amounts to nothing and will not alter the determination of the Government to grant Ireland her freedom before this time next year.

The showing made the past year by Catholic educational institutions conducting medical departments has been most encouraging. Graduates of all schools must undergo examination before being granted license to practice medicine. From the Journal of the American Medical Association we learn that the St. Louis University leads all the large institutions in this respect in this country, with a record of but three failures out of ninety-one examinations. This surpassed Columbia, Harvard, University of Pennsylvania, John Hopkins, Rush University and others equally large. The ninety graduates of the St. Louis University class of 1910 were examined without a single failure. These are facts worth knowing by Catholic young men who contemplate following the medical profession.

Now that they can vote, women "bosses" are beginning to loom up in Chicago. Hull House Miss Jane Adams, who stumped the country for Roosevelt, will be prominent and will be followed by others of hardly less influence. Strange to say, but nevertheless true, there are women leaders who are supporters of "Hinky Dink" Kenna and "Bathhouse" John Coughlin, the Aldermen who have given the First ward and Chicago much notoriety. The women are now dividing into opposing factions that preface little influence for their movement.

The time has arrived for parents who intend to send a son or daughter away to school this year to familiarize themselves with the advantages the various institutions have to offer.

Instead of barring motorcycles from the streets, how about testing the sanity of some of the riders who say they ride motorcycles for pleasure.

There is no gainsaying that Catholic education. They have invested in their educational properties in this country $100,000,000, and are contributing another $10,000,000 annually for the maintenance of the same. Their educational institutions have a population of over 1,250,000.

RECENT DEATHS.

George J. Murphy, a well known member of the police force, died Wednesday morning at his home, 3123 Bank street, following a brief illness of pneumonia. He was forty-two years old and is survived by his widow and three daughters. The funeral was held Friday morning from St. Patrick's church and was largely attended.

The last solemnities over the remains of Daniel Sweeney, for a number of years the baseball idol of the West End, who played in the National League under Manager John McCloskey, were held Monday morning from St. Patrick's church. Surviving him are two brothers, J. J. Sweeney, Superintendent of the Greenbrier distillery, and Thomas Sweeney, and two sisters, Danny Sweeney was a favorite with the ball players of the old days, who sent many messages of condolence when they learned of his death.

DELIGHTFUL MOONLIGHT.

The moonlight excursion of the Hibernian Social Club Monday night was a most delightful affair. Long before the time for the pleasant river ride the boat was crowded with ladies and gentlemen, who never spent a more enjoyable evening. The members of the committee saw that all were cared for and had a good time and thereby added to their already great popularity. Those who could not go express the hope that the Hibernian Social Club will soon give another.

PICNIC FOR ST. PAUL'S.

All who attend the picnic for St. Paul's church next Wednesday at Phoenix Hill Park will enjoy a day long to be remembered. Features will be the chicken dinner, the amateur singers' contest and the euchre and lotto games. Many handsome prizes will be awarded ticket-holders and players, and for all there will be an interesting and enjoyable programme of amusements.

HUNTER BURKE BETTER.

Attorney J. Hunter Burke, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at St. Anthony's Hospital, stood the ordeal well and will recover. It is thought he can soon be removed to his home, 659 South Thirty-fourth street.

TOASTS THE LADIES.

At a dinner of friends recently the following toast was offered: "The ladies! Their eyes kindle the only flame which we can not extinguish and against which there is no insurance."

ONE DOLLAR a month keeps you on the pay-roll in event of disability caused by sickness or accident. Can you afford to be without this protection?

GAS USED FOR LIGHTING PURPOSES—$1.20 per thousand cubic feet, with a discount of 20 cents per thousand for prompt payment.

GAS USED FOR HEATING PURPOSES—72.2 cents per thousand cubic feet, provided the consumption is as much as 1,400 cubic feet each month. Whenever the consumption of gas for any month falls short of 1,400 cubic feet, the price of gas will be as follows:

For 100 feet or less.....	44 cents
For more than 100 feet and less than 300 feet.....	56 cents
For more than 300 feet and less than 700 feet.....	67 cents
For more than 700 feet and less than 1100 feet.....	78 cents
For more than 1100 feet and less than 1300 feet.....	89 cents

Ten per cent. discount will be allowed on all these charges, provided the bill is paid within the discount period.

It will be observed that the price of 75 cents heretofore charged by the Louisville Gas Company for gas used for heating purposes has been reduced to 65 cents, the price heretofore charged by the Kentucky Heating Company.

As soon as the work can be done, the city will be redistricted in such a way as to make bills for gas, electricity and other service rendered by this company fall due on the same date in each district. Pay stations will also be established at places convenient to our customers, where bills may be paid.

Bills for electricity, both for light and power, will be rendered in accordance with the contract between the City of Louisville and H. M. Byllesby & Company, which contract has been published and has been assumed by this company.

Wherever persons, firms or corporations have contracts for definite terms with either the Louisville Lighting Company, the George G. Fetter Company, the Campbell Electric Company or the Kentucky Electric Company, such contracts will be respected and carried out by this company.

The collection of bills at the office of the Kentucky Heating Company, at Seventh and Ormsby, and also at the office of the Kentucky Electric Company, on Fourth, near Chestnut, has been discontinued. All bills payable at either of these places may be paid either at the office of this company, 311 West Chestnut street, or at one of the pay stations indicated on the back of the bill.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.Division 3 meets Monday night and an interesting session is promised.All auxiliary County Presidents in Illinois report a large increase in membership.Denver Hibernians will hold their thirty-first annual reunion tomorrow at Eldorado Springs.Reports at the annual meeting of the Illinois Ladies' Auxiliary State Board show the order in very good condition.Division 1 of Portland, Ore., gave a successful smoker last week and greatly enjoyed the address of Rev.
Father O'Hara.The Illinois Ladies' Auxiliary distributed 1,500 diplomas among the children who have completed the Irish history course.Only routine business was transacted at the meeting of Division 1.
Important matters will come up at the first meeting in August.The Hibernian Social Club scored another success. There are a number who regret that they were unable to be with the merry crowd.President W. J. Connelly has issued a call for a meeting of the County Board for next Friday night at Bertrand Hall. All delegates should attend.National President Regan was in Columbus, Mich., the first week of the month and addressed largely attended meetings held by the auxiliary and division.A division was organized at Lakeview, Ore., on July 4. Fifty-four members were received and promise made that the number will reach 200 in a short time.Division 1 of Portland, Ore., entertained its members and their friends at a public session Monday night. There was a "smoker" and a number of novel features.One of the most earnest workers for the Ancient Order in Louisville is James Walsh, Treasurer of Division
2. Jim has ability that would make him a desirable executive for any division.Just now quiet reigns in local Hibernian circles, but it is expected the County Board will soon arrange for its annual reunion, to be followed later by the affairs of the various divisions.A remarkable audience assembled in Emmet Memorial Hall in Chicago to witness the awarding of Irish history scholarships and the essay contest participated in by schools from all parts of Illinois.There are many members who consider themselves good Hibernians that are seldom seen at meetings.
Unless they attend at least one meeting each month they fall in their duty. Attendance at meetings has a beneficial and encouraging effect and does more for the upbuilding of the order than the mere payment of dues.

NEXT FERRY BILL.

The uniformly excellent vaudeville presented at Fontaine Ferry serves to increase the attendance at that popular place of outdoor amusement. For next week Manager Bilger announces a bill that can be designated without a headline, due to the merit of each number that will be presented. The swimming pool is growing in favor with the public and the popular and classical music provided by Natiello's band continues one of the Ferry's most highly appreciated attractions.

VINCENTIANS.

Tomorrow morning the various conferences of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will celebrate the feast of their patron at St. Patrick's church. In the afternoon the quarterly meeting will take place at the Knights of Columbus home on Fourth street. The Vincentians will receive holy communion in a body and Vicar General Cronin will be the celebrant of the mass.

MOUNTED OFFICER INJURED.

Mounted Patrolman James
Maloney, of the Fourth police district, was seriously injured Wednesday evening. When leaving the station at Nineteenth and Main, his horse slipped and fell, the rider sustaining a fracture of the left leg and several bruises about the body. He was at once removed to his home, 2125 Rowan street, where he is resting easy.

ANOTHER PAGEANT.

The Louisville Knights of Columbus, encouraged by the success of their Fourth of July celebration of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence, plan another great pageant for Landing day, October 12.
This will be produced on an elaborate scale at the Armory, the details for which are now being worked out.

FRANCISCAN PROVINCIAL.

The Rev. Father Raphael, of Spalding, Neb., was on Wednesday elected Provincial of the Franciscan Order of the United States. The election took place in St. Francis College, at Loretto, Pa. The meeting was presided over by the Rev.
Father Plus Trynovic, Minister
General, who came from Rome expressly to attend the election.

SILVER SET FOR SCHULER.

The silver set donated by Mrs.
James Donnelly, to be disposed of at the recent euchre for the benefit of ley, has been awarded to Dominick pins, charms and buttons carry identical colors.The Daughters of Isabella, organized ten years ago, has now 19,000 members. Their fifth biennial convention was held last week in Utica,

States being represented.

ST. GEORGE'S PICNIC.

A picnic under the auspices of St.
George's church will be given at Spring Bank Park next Tuesday.
The proceeds to be donated toward the organ fund, and the members of the congregation are endeavoring to have the assistance of their friends from all parts of town in aiding them in their laudable and charitable enterprise. Euchre will be at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and an elegant dinner and supper will be served by the ladies of the parish.
Seventeen handsome prizes will be disposed of at the picnic, the principal ones having been donated by the different church societies, and are unique and valuable in their line.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATIC CLUB.

coats are very popular.Serge will come to the front for practical street dresses.Poplins both plain and figured are as much liked as ever.A great many blouses of white messaline will be seen this fall.Lisle gloves are probably the best for all-around use in hot weather.Foulard frocks for young girls are being made with two-tiered skirts.Skirts with plaited flounces made of tulle or lace are increasing in favor.Cutaway effects are promised again for fall coats, but may be longer.Separate skirts of white serge with blue hair stripes are always good style.Sleeves for evening gowns vary in length from the mere cap to three-quarters.

LEADING IN CANADA.

two years ago shows seventy-nine different religions in the Dominion.

FILLER FOR CRACKS.

Housekeepers will find that shellac, either melted by heat or dissolved in alcohol to make a thick paste, is an excellent filler for cracks in furniture.

ANCIENT IS GALWAY.

Galway in Ireland is quite an ancient city. Its castle was built in 1124, its town walls about 1270, and
